RESULTS OF THE PRIMARIES

THE MACHINE SUCCESSES LESS SWEEPING THAN AT FIRST ALLEGED.

HOW THEY WERE OBTAINED-RETURNS KEPT FROM INSPECTION-THE PROBABLE FIG-URES-COMMENTS BY MR. BROCK-

FIELD AND MAYOR STRONG The managers of the Platt machine were joyful yesterday over what they called a "victory" over the opponents of machine rule at the Republican primaries on Tuesday evening, but as the actual returns are obtained the machine triumph is found e be by no means as sweeping as was first claimed. That it was secured by questionable means, even the bosses themselves did not attempt to deny yesterday, and that the boasting of the alleged regulars rests upon a slender margin was made apparent when Edward Lauterbach, as chairman of the County Committee, gave orders to his clerks primaries should not be open for inspection, but must be securely kept, safe from the examination of newspaper men and the public. This order was given, it was alleged, in accordance with a pre-viously arranged scheme that the figures should not be copied until the machine managers had finished their doctoring.

UNFAIR APPORTIONMENT OF DELEGATES. A well-known leader of the anti-machine forces gave the following reason for the general result, which was accepted as accounting for the way the vote was returned from many districts: "The unfair apportionment of the delegates by the Organigation Committee of the County Committee did the business. They apportioned delegates out of all ortion to the representation in districts where the Platt faction was strong, and they cut down the number of delegates where the Brookfield peo-ple were strong. We have no redress for this outrage, but have got to submit to it. There is no way just now by which we can remedy the matter, but our turn may come later.

Claims were made on Tuesday night and early yesterday morning that the machine would elect anywhere from eighty to one hundred delegates out of the 125 who are to represent this city in the publican State Convention at Saratoga. Before the sun went down yesterday these pretensions of the bosses had been materially modified. Few Platt men of personal reputation cared to stand out for more than eighty State Convention delegates last night. The real division of representation will not be known until after the Assembly District conventions have been held this evening. The best obtainable information indicated that the districts would stand about as follows

The machine majority in the County Convention, which will be composed of 318 delegates, will probably be about the same proportionately WHAT MR. BROOKFIELD SAYS

Commissioner Brookfield, in speaking vesterday of the returns and claims of the Platt men, said that whatever the actual result he did not mean to give up the fight against dirty politics and machine methods. "That fight will go right along." he said, from this day. Last night's results and the methods which brought them about will be merely a stimulus. The battle will go on until the Repubwould not permit his closest friends to discuss the political struction with him. If he had given us a night. Not only did no assistance come from him, but his own appointees, some of them, used their personal influence and all the patronage they had or could promise to antagonize and humiliate the administration. These men ought to resign, and not continue as part of an administration they are trying to discredit."

THE MAYOR TOOK NO PART IN THE CON-TEST.

Mayor Strong confirmed Commissioner Brookfield's statement so far as it related to the fact that the Mayor had taken no part in the fight.

Mayor had taken no part in the fight.

"It is true that I took no interest in the primary election," he said. "I was elected on a platform which pledged its candidates to labor for the elimination of politics from the municipal government. Many Republicans have exhibited dissatisfaction because I have endeavored to live up to that promise, but I think that they are wrong, and not I as to the men I have appointed. I distinctly told every one of them that all I asked was that his place be conducted for the best interests of the city. I have never attempted to interfere with them politically or to influence their action in a political sense.

"Whatever may have been said about men being for or against the "administration" was only for political effect. I take it. I am not, and have in no way been, concerned in the outcome of the primaries, and I do not consider that the question of my administration of the municipal government was in any way involved. I cannot prevent men from claiming that they represent the "administration," and I suppose they will continue to make the claim as long as they think it will do them any good. The fact that Commissioner of Jurors Plimley, Tax Commissioner Wells, Marshai Healey and others worked against what is called the "administration," ticket is no concern of mine. The manner of a man's voting had nothing to do with my appointment of him to office. I have lived up to this principle, and I mean to perform my duties as long as I am Mayor of New-York. I have no interest in municipal politics, as I am Mayor of the entire city, and I mean to perform my duties as best I can for the interests of the city as a whole. I have no been and will not be, engaged in the work of building up or tearing down any faction or party.

"As to the men who are said to have compaints accited the beauty or because I have not been and will not be engaged in the work of building up or tearing down any faction or party.

"As to the men who are said to have compaints work of building up or tearing does any teacher party.

"As to the men who are said to have complaints against me because I have not appointed them to office. I don't believe that the citizens of New-York are grieving greatly because some chronic office-seekers are grumbling. I don't think the people want such men in the public service, and I do not mean to put them there because I intend to live up to the platform on which I was elected. If I do not succeed in eliminating politics from the municipal government the result will not be due to the fact that I did not make the attempt."

CAUCUSES HELD LAST NIGHT.

The usual preparations were going on in the various Assembly districts last evening for the Assembly district conventions, to be held to-night. delegates to these conventions chosen on Tuesday evening held caucuses last night at their different headquarters to nominate their candidates for delegates to the Republican State Convention, and the district campaign committees. In districts where the delegates chosen by the two factions are nearly equal in number lively conventions are expected to-night. The Bliss-Hedges delegates of the XXVth Assembly District met at the James G. Blaine Republican Club in West Twenty-fourth-st. In spite of reports circulating yesterday, which represented that Mr. Hedges had been "downed" by James W. Auten, some fifty-five Hedges delegates, it was asserted, had joined in the Blaine Club caucus and would vote for the Hedges ticket to-night. If this proves to be true the friends of Cornelius N. Bliss and Job E. Hedges will do the "downing," and the Werd-Auten-McCann combine will not control the and Job E. Hedges will do the "downing," and the Werd-Auten-McCann combine will not control the XXVth.

There were reports yesterday of a coalition between the Kerwin and Wilson forces in the XXIIId Assembly District, which if effected would, it was said, snatch from Julius M. Mayer the victory he was believed to have won on Tuesday night over Kerwin. Mr. Mayer said that no combination could be made that would defeat him in the XXIIId.

The report that Commissioner Brookfeld's Assertices.

The report that Commissioner Brookfield's As-sembly district—the XXVIIth—had gone against him at the primaries was denied by the anti-machine men of the district yesterday. Enough Brookfield delegates had been elected, they said, to make an anti-boss delegation to the State Con-vention from the XXVIIth a certainty.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTIONS. The Republican County Convention for the election of nine delegates to the State Convention and nine to the Judiciary Convention met at tchogue yesterday. When the call was issued for the the fact was overlooked that as the county is divided into two Assembly districts the conventions should have been by districts instead of by county, and this was remedied. The convention organized by the election of Nicoll Floyd, of Centre Moriches, as president, and Charles E. Sheppard, of Huntington, and J. N. Hallock, of Southold, secretaries. On motion the convention then resolved itself into two conventions, the delegates from the first district constituting one and

The Second District Convention was presided over by N. S. Ackerly, of Northport; W. B. Coaley, of Northport, and the Rev. J. N. Prescott, of Sayville, were secretaries.

Full sets of delegates were elected, and resolutions were adopted by both district conventions sitting together indorsing the administration of the State government by Governor Morton, denouncing the National Administration for its course in public affairs, favoring the enlargement of the State Committee and the representation of each county by one member.

The State delegates were not instructed, but those of the Judiciary Convention were instructed to try not secure the nomination in the Second Judicial district for County Judge Smith, of Suffolk County.

WARRING DEMOCRATS IN ROCKLAND. THE COUNTY TORN UP BY A SQUABBLE AS TO WHO SHALL BUN THE COMING SEN-ATE CONVENTION.

An interesting and lively strife is looked for at the Democratic County Convention to be held at New-City on Saturday to select delegates to the Senatorial convention which will nominate Senator Lexow's opponent. There are two factions, each headed by prominent members of the party, and two separate calls for the county convention have been issued. One faction is represented by George Dickey, J. Bogert Suffern and M. McCabe, who were appointed by State Committeeman Clark to confer with a committee from Orange County to ap-portion the Senatorial delegates for the district and call the convention.

This committee met at Newburg yesterday and apportioned sixteen delegates for Rockland County and thirty-two for Orange. The other faction, which does not recognize this apportionment, is represented by District-Attorney Frank Comesky, Irving Brown, School Commissioner George A. Blauvelt, Everett A. Cooper and John Connell, who last year were appointed by State Committee-man Thache to harmonize the Democratic party in Rockland County. This faction calls for only ten Senatorial delegates from Rockland County, disregarding the sixteen apportioned by the committee at Newburg.

DATES FOR TAMMANY CONVENTIONS. MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION -PLUNKITT REBUKED BY JOHN REILLY.

County Clerk Henry D. Purroy, who aspires to be elected a Judge this fall, presided last night at the meeting of the Tammany Hall Committee on Organization, in the subterranean quarters of the wigwam. The committee arranged for holding primarie for the Tammany Hall County and District Conventions on Tuesday evening, October 1. The dates arranged were as follows: Assembly, October 7; Senate, October 8; County Convention, October 9; Congress conventions in the Xth and XIVth Con gress districts, October 5. The date fixed for the County Convention is upon the last day before the election that the county nominations can be made under the law, showing that the Tammany bosses mean to know exactly what the organization must fight before putting their ticket in the field.

No order for the election of delegates to the Democratic State Convention can emanate from the central body under the Cassidy resolution, which still in force, and governs the choice of representatives to the State Convention. "The people supposed to send delegates spontaneously. But the word has been passed around that the various districts are to elect delegates to the Assembly disin the fact that they succeeded. Mayor Strong could not be induced to play politics a little bit. He bosses may decree, and that these conventions will assemble to choose delegates to Syracuse on September 19. Chairman Purroy gave notice that the names of inspectors and the designation of places for holding the primaries must be handed in at the meeting of the Tammany General Committee on Friday even the primaries must be handed in at the meeting of the Tammany General Committee on Friday evening. Thereupon a member who sat in the northeast corner of the cellar arose, and in a wheezy voice asked why these names and the pinces for the primaries could not be presented forthwith. This delegate knew that the district leaders had these matters already arranged, and that every one of them had his lists in his pocket. "It would save time," the man squeaked, "to attend to this now," Ex-Senator Plunktit, of the XVth, hopped up to say that he thought this a good idea, and pulling his list from his pocket hoped that the districts would be called at once for the purpose named. Ex-Register John Rellly, of the XIVth District, put on a severe frown, and was on his feet in an instant.

"I don't know how the Senator does things up in his district," said Mr. Rellly, looking severely at Plunktit. "but with us we call our General Committee together to select the names and places, we act in these matters as our people wish, and I should be sorry to hear that Democrats are bossed by leaders in any district of New-York. For the reason I have stated my district won't be ready to report until Friday evening."

The laugh was on Plunkitt and it lasted a full minute. The County Clerk adjourned the meeting before "the Senator" had recovered from the shock.

THE COLUMBUS CLUB'S MEETING.

There will be a regular meeting of the Italian Republican Columbus Club of this city in the VIth Assembly District, formerly the IIId, at No. 24 Spring-st, this evening to organize for the coming election. Leaders for each of the election districts will be selected, and it is the wish of the club to have a branch station in each district. The club now has a membership of 600.

STATE DEMOCRACY PRIMARIES NEXT MON-

The Executive Committee of the State Democracy sat in a close, stuffy room at their headquarters, No. 28 East Twenty-third-st, last evening, John DeWitt Warner presiding in the absence of Charles S. Fairchild, and decided to hold primaries on September 16 to choose delegates to the Assembly dis trict conventions, which will meet on Sepetember 19 and make up the list of the State Democracy repr sentatives who are to go to the Democratic State Convention at Syracuse. The number to be chosen is 165-three from each Assembly district-a full delegation, and the same number that Tammany will send.

delegation, and the same humber that lammany will send.

A committee, with John J. Quinlan as chairman, will look after the transportation to Syracuse and accommodations for the delegates during their stay. The State Democracy Assembly districts will perfect their organizations between September 16 and 19, but they cannot tell what they will do about joining in a combination ticket against Tammany Hall until they find out what sort of treatment they receive from the Democratic State machine at Syracuse.

BROOKLYN DEMOCRATS TO TRY TO GET TO-GETHER.

Robert S. Roy, Assistant United States District-Attorney and one of the followers of Edward M. Shepard, yesterday wrote to Bernard J. York, chairman of the Executive Committee of the regular Democrats of Kings County, with reference to the conference to be held by the two factions. After receiving the letter Mr. York wrote to Mr. Shepard and said that his committee was ready for the con-ference whenever it pleased Mr. Shepard to appoint the time and place. The conference may take place to-morrow. Whether it will be public or not is not yet known.

ALBANY REPUBLICANS WILL BE HEARD FROM TO-NIGHT.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR A GREAT MASS. MEETING TO VOICE THE PROTEST OF THE PEOPLE AGAINST BOSS RULE.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Albany, Sept. 11.-It is now evident that the meeting to be held here to-morrow night to demonstrate the popular support in Albany of the propsition that the Republican State Committee should be enlarged will be largely attended. Five thousand persons have signified their intenion to be present. A meeting of the Committee of Arrangements was held to-day with George H. Gardiner in the chair. The arrangements for the meeting were reported as being almost completed and ready for submission to the organization. The most enthusiastic reports were made as to the expected attendance at the big mass-meeting. All the chairmen reported that many Republicans had declared their intention to attend the mass-meeting and advocate a bigger State Committee. The ward and town leaders reported the grand total of 5,100 Republicans in the county who said they would attend the meeting and were for its objects.

One of these objects will be the invoking of sup-port for Oren E. Wilson, the reform Republican Mayor of Albany. He has lowered the taxes of Albany and in other ways improved its administra-tion. The taxpayers demand his renomination for Mayor at the approaching election. The Republi cans of the city of Albany will have a chance to manifest their enthusiasm as the Scuth End Re-publican clubs march from their houses to Harmanus Bleecker Hall. The line will first forn, at o'clock at the rooms of the Lincoln Club of the First Ward, at Third-ave, and Stephen-st., where the members will assemble, and, preceded by the Albany City Band, march down to South Pearl-st., and thence to Capitol Park, the clubs of the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth wards falling in on the way. At Capitol Park another band will be stationed, and here the members of the organization in wards not in the South End will congregate, and there will be music and a display fireworks pending the arrival of the downtown clubs. Colonel Sanford, who is a convincing speaker, has consented to make a brief address, and will tell of bossism as he has found it in his long political experience. Up to the time of adjournment this evening 364 futile votes had been taken in the dead-locked con-vention. The convention will meet again to-morrow morning.

STATE POLITICAL NOTES.

Possibly J. Rider Cady may still have some doubts as to whether "Lou" Payn is, after all, "the biggest man in Columbia County." But there is not slightest question in his mind that no one in American politics is the peer of the ex-Marshal in the greengoods line for Cady still carries the gold brick known as the nomination for Attorney-Gen-eral, which Payn sold to him at the Columbia County Convention, as evidence of the melancholy results that attended his recent negotiations with Platt's chief bunco-steerer.

"The Middletown Times" finds great encourage ment in Lieutenant-Governor Saxton's declaration that the next Senate will be a "far finer body of men than we have had for the last two years. "The trend of Republican nominations," says "the Times," "for the State Senate this year has been distinctly upward."

Platt's advocacy of Governor Morton for President is discussed by "The Binghamton Herald" under the title of "A Great Dicker in Sight." The gist of the article is this: "If the Republican delegation from New-York State could be sent to the National Cor vention pledged for Morton, it would give him one of the great opportunities of his life. He knows Morton's years will prevent any one from taking his candidacy seriously, and that the New-York delegation, even though pledged to Morton, York delegation, will in the end be obliged to vote for somebody else, and it is with that somebody else that Thomas would make his dicker. He will offer to swap the votes of New-York's delegation for Federal patronage, and then. Oh. my countrymen; if he is successful, not only will New-York State, but all the States in the Union as well, be troubled with Platt.

Senator Hill's fervent protestations at the Chemung County fair last week against "cheap men, cheap money and cheap things generally" would seem to indicate that while slipping his moorings on the sliver question he has never got very far away from the Republican idea of the tariff. Instead of his old slogan. "I am a Democrat." Hill's refrain seems now to be, "I am a Protectionist."

"There is a well-defined line," says "The Troy Times," "between leadership and bossism. When the one descends to the other it is time to call a halt. When organization is diverted from its proper purpose it is necessary to sound the alarm. long as there are political parties there must be consistent plans for the furthering of party policies, and some one upon whom to place the responsibility of directing action. This is the legitimate field of organization and lendership, and within this field they must be confined."

Despite the opposition of the Barnes crawd Mayor Wilson, Albany's reform Mayor, is gaining ground, and his renomination is no longer conside ered impossible. The most progressive papers are joining with the State in supporting him. Times-Union" says of his administration: 'The honest elections party, which was improvised for the purpose of reforming our city affairs and getting by the long ascendency of partisan political management, has fulfilled all that could reasonably be ex-successively passed for political purposes, an ideal thorough reform was impracticable; but Mayor Wilson has done everything in his power under the circumstances to regulate and manage the affairs of the city on the same principles of economy that an honest and intelligent man would pursue in the conduct of private business. He has made all his appointments with a view to selecting the best men available for public service."

While professing a disinclination to interfere with New-York City politics, "The Steuben Courier" modestly makes the strange assertion that the Republican organization-meaning the machine-of the State prefers a straight ticket for this city. "The Courier" believes it better politics to name a straight ticket and fail than to secure good government by does not quote Mr. Platt, but directs attention to the advice of the "prettiest and best-dressed Democrat in the United States," Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, who says "that it is better that a community suffer a little from misrule rather than rely upon the power of the State to correct local abuses." This, "The Courier" says, is "common sense," and "if the New-York reformers will do a little thinking along the lines marked out by Mr. Russell, they may discover why the Legislature of New-York was so refuctant last winter to pass all the bills that they called for, some of which were calculated to make a veritable Czar of Mayor Strong. Now they are proposing to put up another hybrid ticket in the hope of pushing the Mugwump lifes of reform a little further." does not quote Mr. Platt, but directs attention to

'The Rochester Herald' says that the most disusted man with the Grand Old Party in Orleans County is Stanley E. Filkins, a stanch friend of Thomas C. Platt. Mr. Filkins went to the convention with the assurance that he was to be a delegate to the Judicia! Convention, but when the slate was made up his name was lost in the "combination." His ambition to go to the State Convention falled to materialize, and he was left out in the cold.

A BATTLE ROYAL IN HERKIMER. THE SHEARD FACTION SAID TO BE SLIGHTLY

AHEAD-SOME RETURNS NOT IN. Little Falls, N. Y., Sept. 11.-The Republicans of Herkimer County to-day have been engaged in the flercest factional struggle in the local history of The contest was to decide the supremacy of ex-Speaker Titus Sheard and Victor Adams or Palmer Wood and Henry C. Munger. The cau-cuses this afternoon resulted in a tie between the two factions, the County Committeemen standing six to six, and the delegates to the County Convention, who are to select delegates to the Senate Convention, slightly in favor of N. E. Ransom, the Convention, slightly in favor of N. E. Ransom, the Sheard condidate, as against William C. Prescott. The caucuses to-night are being fiercely contested, and the reports from the back towns are coming in slowly. At a late hour a few of the town caucuses were still undecided. The town of German Flats, which adjoins Herkimer, the home of Warner Miller, has been carried by Sheard by fifty majority, and everything indicates the success of the Sheard faction. Mr. Ransom, Sheard's candidate for Senator, is gaining strength with each report.

A VOICE IN KENTUCKY FOR CARLISLE. Indianapolis, Sept. 11.-Special Examiner James Noonan, of Covington, Ky., an intimate friend of Secretary Carlisle, said yesterday: "Kentucky will send a solid delegation for Carlisle. If the nomina-tion comes West, as it seems likely to do, you can put it down that he will be the nominee."

LIVELY TIMES IN THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONSTI TITIONAL CONVENTION-TILLMAN'S SCHEME DENOUNCED.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. II.-The Constitutional Conention began its session this morning with another rush, and there have been lively proceedings thus far. President Evans announced his standing committees at the opening. ROOSEVELT ANSWERS HILL.

HE SAYS THE SENATOR IS THE "CHAM-PION OF THE LAWBREAKER." A VIGOROUS REPLY TO HILL'S SPEECH ON "PER SONAL LIBERTY," ACCUSING HIM OF BEING THE "APOLOGIST OF DISHONESTY" AND THE "FOE OF HONESTY." Buffalo, Sept. 11.-Police Commissioner Theodore Rooseveit, of New-York, delivered an address at a mass-meeting held in Music Hall to-night under the auspices of the Catholic Abstinence Union. He gave his whole attention to Senator Hill's recent criticisms of his method of enforcing the Sunday closing laws in New-York. He said, in part should stand on a place with the light for numan freedom.

Resistance to the law is justified only on ground that justifies a revolution. The doctrine that Senator Hill teaches is a doctrine which can only result in lawlessness and anarchy among the people at large, and in the widest corruption among the officials of the Sinte. He deliberately puts himself upon a par with the lyncher and the whitecapper and the open foe of order. Senator Hill takes this stand because he believes that the forces of evil outnumber the forces of good. He hopes that he will attract from the opposite party more men who are victous than he loses decent men from his own party.

Mr. Roosevelt was followed by Bishop Kcane, who read the message uttered by the Third Plenary. Council to the Catholics of the United States, di-rected against the sale of liquor on Sunday.

THEY UNCOUPLED THE WRONG CAR. TRAIN ROBBERS ON THE RIO GRANDE WESTERN

RAILWAY TAKE THE MAIL COACH FOR THE EXPRESS CAR. Denver, Sept. 11 -An unsuccessful attempt at train

robbery was made at 2 o'clock this morning at the Crevase Siding on the line of the Rio Grande Western Railway, near the Utah line. When the regular west-bound mail train stopped at the water tank, the robbers uncoupled the forward car from the train and suddenly appearing before the cres on the locomotive ordered them to go ahead. At the end of the switch they ordered the locomotive to be detached from the cars and drawn away, leaving the car alone. This was the malicar, in which Clerk H. M. Todd was preparing to resist.

When the engineer saw the robbers produce dynamite he told them he would get the clerk to open the door, and he was ordered to do it in a hurry. 194 West 14th St.

Then the robbers told the express messenger to throw out any valuable matter he might have within, but Todd and the engineer told the robbers that the express car had been left with the train. They had uncoupled the wrong car. Becoming frightened at the delay the robbers finally took to the woods, where they probably had horses concealed. The train was detained lifty minutes, and proceeded to Sair Lake. Officers are now in pursuit, with a good serviction of the men.

AMERICAN MECHANICS ELECT OFFICERS. Philadelphia, Sept. II.-The second day's, session f the National Council, Order of United American Mechanics, was held in Independence Hall this morning.
